

May you live in interesting

So goes the old Chinese curse – and it’s certainly been ‘interesting’ in Canberra this past fortnight. I don’t expect there are many who can look back and say they acted with honour and integrity. I don’t really have a problem with replacing a Prime Minister who is difficult to work with, what I can’t understand is how they let them get that far in the first place. Having had the misfortune to work under a couple of bullies who couldn’t run a chook raffle, if I’d had the power to get rid of them and find someone who could do the job, I would have. People often say all politicians are liars, and I find that a bit sad. I think that most of the people who enter local, state or federal government, do so for the right reasons – they want to make a difference. Some find it too hard to put aside their strongly held principles and leave, finding it a bridge too far. Some have to make concessions and compromises they can live with, take the pragmatic route and do their best for the common good. Others don’t leave, but prefer to stay, creating a toxic environment and destroying from within. I’m not sure turning the other cheek works in those cases. Then there are those who seem to find it much easier to compromise, bend the rules, and perhaps the lines between doing what is right and what is allowed are blurred. So, although a decision might be legal, or within the guidelines, it may not be ethical. That’s when I get a little peeved. It’s not a game – it’s government. It’s not a business, there to make a profit – it’s there to serve US – the taxpayers and ratepayers. The least we deserve is that they do their jobs to the best of their abilities, and if they can’t – get out.

I hope you've all made sure you are able to vote in the next Council Elections – this is very important for people in our district as we must maintain a voice within our council. As Councillor Michael Seager has decided that he won't be contesting this election, some people may be thinking of nominating, and I guess it's no secret that my husband Don is one of them.

Nominations will close 18th September and voting must be complete by 9th November. Good Luck!

Have you bought your tree, yet? The Talunga Park beautification is now underway, and we should see a huge improvement in the aesthetics of the area over the next few years. ## Media Release

9 August 2018

Accolades and awards for The Rex

Council owned facility, the Barossa Aquatic and Fitness Centre (The Rex) is making headlines of its own after being named South Australian Facility of the Year at Belgravia Leisure's recent awards night.

And the awards didn't stop there. The Rex was also named runner up for swim school of the year, was a finalist for the community program of the year award for actively engaging the community about water safety and a finalist for National Facility of the Year from 165 Belgravia Leisure sites.

Mayor Bob Sloane commended staff, acknowledging the importance of these accolades and awards.

"It's so pleasing to see the hard work that everyone has put in has been rewarded by peers in the industry," he said.

"The Rex and its strong patronage is testament to the hard work of the staff and Council officers who work together to ensure the facility continues to serve the needs and expectations of the growing community.

"To be named South Australian facility of the year is a coup in its own right, but to also be acknowledged on a state level for the success of the swim school and community engagement program around water safety really reinforces that incredible facility we have here.

"Together, Council and Belgravia Leisure continue to grow recreational opportunities in the Barossa through initiatives like the 24/7 gym access and ongoing upgrades and improvements to the Rex."

Main Street news

Crews have been busy at the junction of Saleyard Road, Melrose Street and Herriott Road this week, adding kerbing and hopefully fixing the drainage issues. It already looks a lot neater, and will be less hazardous for pedestrians, as it defines the road and the path. The kerbing looks like it won't be quite as high, which will also be easier to manoeuvre.

Above: The old Cootamundra Wattle has been removed from the CWA Garden. Left: The council tells us that work has been approved to replace the Rex Amber bridge. Here's hoping the fence along the Torrens will also be upgraded and made safe. The Hall Committee put in a request around September last year to have this fixed for the Street Party. Below right: The 'Bus Shelter' next to the Hall had damaged panels removed a few weeks ago, and the Community Association has made an informal request that this may be used as an all weather Community Noticeboard.

Farewell, John Mac

On the 22nd of August, all the usual suspects gathered at the Men's Shed to farewell John and Charmaine Macgowan. They have made the very hard decision to move back to the west to be closer to their family, and it was difficult for us to say goodbye. I will miss John's sly humour and witticisms as he recounted the various trials, tribulations and titillating gossip from the Men's Shed. Now I have to make an effort and con someone else into providing me with the grist for that particular mill. John had great fun sending me his articles, and Charmaine was ever ready with the red pen, correcting his mistakes and providing feedback. He assures us he'll be sending little pieces from the west and has assumed the mantle of 'Foreign Correspondent'. We hope he finds the time. Cheers, John!

Lobethal Harmony Club

Lobethal Harmony Club celebrates with Chor Farmer

Coincidentally, this year is the 140th year since the Lobethal Harmony Club was founded in 1878. # SALA Mt Pleasant

The Wisteria Atrium Gallery added another colour to its palette on the evening of Friday 10 August for the opening of Mount Pleasant's SALA event – Farm to Market Town.

With 14 artists on the bill, those attending the opening were entertained with a display of art in many mediums; watercolour, pen and ink, acrylic, oils, graphite pencil, photographs, ceramic, metalwork, glass, collage and floral design together with a model of the railway station, celebrating the 100-year anniversary of the first train into Mount Pleasant.

Wendy Harvey, Chairperson of the Mount Pleasant Progress Association, opened the event by acknowledging the Peramangk People, then congratulated and thanked the artists, the sponsors and, in particular, the volunteers for collaborating to ensure a successful and enjoyable social event.

As with many events in Mount Pleasant, volunteers play a key role. The SALA opening was anchored by the ladies in the kitchen who prepared cheese platters, exotic Asian dips, fresh and dried fruit, biscuits and bread plus mugs of hot and spicy soup, a comfort food for a cold, wintry night. There was tea and coffee available plus an array of donated wines from local producers. The relaxing background music of folk band Tamarisque set the scene for a very convivial market atmosphere.

The team leader for SALA in Mount Pleasant, Terese Stephens, who has been in and around the floral industry for over 35 years, created a rural centrepiece, an early settler's jinker laden with farming paraphernalia and bedecked with flowers, fruit and vegetables which subscribed to the theme of Farm to Market Town. Terese, Joe Dennis and Barrie Spencer, artists and important cogs in the Mount Pleasant SALA wheel, worked with Men's Shed volunteers to prepare the Atrium for opening night.

Splendour in the Atrium

Chris and Steve Birrell recently sold a property in the city and donated these magnificent palms to the Wisteria Atrium. The Men's Shed blokes were press ganged into shifting these enormous specimens and we don't think George will be the same. The actual dimensions of these plants may have been lost in translation from 'large pots and palms' to the reality of 'ginormous trees we probably should have used a crane to move!' They were certainly worth the effort as they make quite a statement, and give a tropical feel to a very large space. The breakfast crowd certainly appreciated them.

History Notes

History at the Show

This year at the Poultry, Pigeons and Eggs pavilion, not only will you see – and hear – and amazing number of poultry and breeds, but you will also see a fantastic historical display on the roles animals played in World War 2 – including a large number of Pigeons. During the war, animals that performed outstanding feats of valour received the Dickin Medal. Which in animal terms, is akin to the Victoria Cross.

To quote Wiki:

The PDSA (People's Dispensary for Sick Animals) Dickin Medal was instituted in 1943 in the United Kingdom by Maria Dickin to honour the work of animals in World War II. It is a bronze medallion, bearing the words "For Gallantry" and "We Also Serve" within a laurel wreath, carried on a ribbon of striped green, dark brown, and pale blue. It is awarded to animals that have displayed "conspicuous gallantry or devotion to duty while serving or associated with any branch of the Armed Forces or Civil Defence Units". The award is commonly referred to as "the animals' Victoria Cross" (although the Victoria Cross Trust has opposed this association).

The two Australian

connections:

DD.43.T.13, a pigeon in February 1947: Brought message of foundered ship in the "Huon Gulf" in time to salvage it and its cargo; served with the Royal Australian Corps of Signals.

DD.43.Q.87, a pigeon in February 1947: Only survivor of three pigeons released to warn of an impending counter-attack at Manus island. Reached headquarters in time to extract a US Marine Corps patrol; served with the Royal Australian Corps of Signals.

Shame they didn't have any exotic names! For the full list, check out the Wikipedia entry.

Fleece & Fibre

Another successful event was held on 11th August. You can tell by the photos that the hall was packed full, and the range of goods on offer was astounding. This is a popular event every year and thanks to Elisabeth from the MP Spinners for the heads up.

Weekend of Dance

Although Barb and Bill Tapscott have officially retired from organising the annual 'Weekend of Dance' – this is not the end! 25 years is a long time in anyone's language, and the dedication they have shown in bringing this great event to our town is extraordinary. Bill and Barb were featured in January 2017's Beat, and there was also an article in 15th August's Leader. It was amazing to find out just how much they have contributed to our community. Many local groups have benefited from their generosity – including the MP District Historical Research Group, the MP Netball Club and the MP Show Society.

The grass isn't growing under their feet and they will still be holding their Charity Dances at least until 2019.

The group's AGM will be held on 18th September.

Pete's Poem

The Too-Late Dog

The Too-Late Dog always barks at us
As we pass the farmyard gate.
The Too-Late Dog constantly creates a fuss,
But he always does it – too late.

He chases the cats and the farmyard chooks,
But he seems to be dogged by ill-fate.
Tho' he fixes them all with ferocious looks,
He always starts barking – too late!

He sleep on the porch in the morning sun,
With his water bowl and plate.
And he sometimes considers he might like a run,
But by the time he's decided – too late.

When his time on this planet passes into dust,
And he proceeds at last to his fate,
The old maker'll tell him "You're welcome, come in, it's just...
That you've got here a little bit late."

Pete - The Peripatetic Poet

COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

The Community Association AGM was held on Monday 13th August at 7pm, in the Westphalen Room of the SM Hall, and Paula Bartsch was elected Chairperson, Paul Johnson Treasurer and Sue Barrett is Secretary. Di Anderson is the Vice Chair, and also the Public officer, and Glynnis Burrows will be taking care of our Publicity.

An amended constitution has been circulating for the last few months, and the group voted on and accepted the changes, which basically updated it to what committees nowadays work under, and also resolved the issues of what would happen to the assets in the event that the group ceased to exist.

Meeting notes are available on the Facebook page in the photo album 'notes from Meetings'.

Paula Bartsch- Chairperson

The applications for the Street Parade have been sent out, and we're receiving forms. There has been a lot of interest, and we are hoping the parade will be bigger than previous ones - especially now as we have introduced a couple of extra categories for prizes. We have also sent out information about the poster competition earlier than usual, and are looking forward to seeing what talented artists we have in the district.

Nicole is also taking entries from organisations, clubs and people who are interested in being food or craft stallholders at the Street Party.

And don't forget that the judging for the best decorated Residence and Business will take place in the last week in November! Great prizes are available also.

Kath, Sid, Dor and Jean are again making up our sponsorship team, and if you would like to donate anything - please see them.

Di will be in charge of all the Raffles for the day - remember there will be a major one as well as a livestock one. Please see her if you would like to donate a prize.

The Street Party group welcomes any donation - big or small - cash or in kind, and our generous sponsors from last year enabled us to increase the prize money, and give us a great start for this year.

The next meeting is scheduled for 7.30 Monday 10th September. We will be mainly discussing the status of our sponsorship, and what entry forms and applications we have received so far, as well as other communications. As always, we welcome people who'd like to come along to see how they can help, and if you have any interesting ideas or comments, we look forward to hearing them.
