paint the town any colour they want!

MP Crash wins national

Tom and Lucia Campaniello recently showed Australia that living in a small town doesn't necessarily mean small ideas. During October they went to Melbourne for the Annual Paint and Panel Awards after winning their category in South Australia. Their business - Mount Pleasant Crash - then took out the Australia wide award for Best Large Shop. This is no mean feat, as the industry is very competitive. Tom and Lucia are well known around the district and despite their busy schedules, have played a huge part in community life for many years. Their business prides itself on providing the best customer service and their equipment and expertise is clearly second to none. Well done to Tom and Lucia, and all their employees - a well deserved win.

Banking on a good outcome

In 2016, back when all the changes were happening, a poll was taken at the July community dinner. There was some lively discussion, and the people were asked what their priorities were for their town and district. Number one was - "a bank!" This was closely followed by a number of items, most of which were on the Main Street Master Plan of 2005. I think you can see where I'm going with this. Back in 2015 newsletter #3 talked about a reduction in BankSA hours. BankSA closed, citing the cause as being no-one using the bank as they were doing online banking. Anyone who's been with a banking institution would have been bombarded with emails and letters exhorting customers to use online banking. The campaigns were relentless. #6 discussed approaching Bendigo Bank as BankSA had closed. #13 had new initiatives the new MP Inc were hoping to pursue - including approaching banks, and #14 had the feedback from the dinner. Anne and Rose at the post office gamely stepped in and have provided a great service, although clearly not all banks services can be handled through an agency. Many small clubs and organisations have found to their cost the dramas involved with changing signatories, and people have apparently gotten used to travelling to attend to those services that the branch would normally have handled.

Of late Hughes Construction has been spearheading the Lobethal and Districts Community Bank Project, and last week, they held a town meeting at Talunga Park - the latest in many meetings held across the district - and despite being widely advertised in the newsletter and social media, the attendance was disappointing. It's amazing how people just move on. We've lived in a lot of small towns throughout South Australia, and seen many of them lose facilities and heart. Unless there is a concerted, determined effort, losing these types of services can be the start of a long decline.

This is the text of the poster the group used to pass on the message:

Now is the time to help and show your support of this community project!

We need you and your banking business to jump aboard now! We need you, as members of your community, to take a leap of faith now!

Now is the time, by changing your banking and supporting our Community Banking Project, it will achieve something significantly different - your banking choices will have a direct positive impact on the community that you live in - a proportion of the profit earned from your banking will be returned to worthy causes in our community and the mere presence of a full-service, community banking facility in our district provides a REASON for people to come back to our district - to shop, to socialise, to establish businesses and to start up new services.

And this is the feedback from the meeting:

Please be an ambassador for our project and share the information that you learnt with your family, friends, colleagues or anyone you meet in the street.

If you wish to help this project and join our steering committee, please let me know, we appreciate any assistance.

Please remember that your help, support and choice to bank with Lobethal & Districts Community Bank through this project will be appreciated beyond words by all of the future generations of our community.

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to contact Mandy or one of our steering committee members. (Call 0407 979 989 or 0418 492 392 - or Lobethal Districts Community Bank Project on Facebook)

Now, I can't and won't tell you which bank to choose, and there are things that I choose not to change with my own situation - BUT - I am seriously looking at what I can do to support this movement. Check out their Facebook page and read up on Bendigo Bank. Considering the information that has come out of the banking Royal Commission, none of the big four have covered themselves with glory, and the great thing about Bendigo Bank - and other community banks - is that they really DO help the community. Members can be eligible for grants that can make substantial differences to their groups and organisations. Think about it.

Robber's Dog

It has finally opened. A long time in the making - but definitely worth it. Rob and Cath Davies have spent the last little while getting their distillery ready for business, and they offer a large range of hand crafted gin, as well as a few other interesting drops. Last weekend Rob attended the Spring Gin Fling at Inglewood, which showcased the range on offer throughout the hills and beyond.

Exuding a warm and friendly atmosphere, it didn't take long for me to choose a bottle of Lemoncello to take home - even though I'd only dropped in for a chat! It's that sort of place. Rob and Cath also have some interesting bags on sale (would make good carry home wine bags!), made in Guinea West Africa, you support the artisans with every purchase.

What is Citizen

Citizen science involves public participation and collaboration in scientific research with the aim to increase scientific knowledge. It's a great way to harness community skills and passion to fuel the capacity of science to answer our questions about the world and how it works. Have a look at the 10 Principles of Citizen Science to find out more. To be involved in citizen science you don't need a science degree. Citizen scientists work with scientists or the scientific framework to achieve scientific goals.

History Festival 2020 - Oral History

The Historical Research Group has a planned project for History Month in May 2020 and Sue, Chris Birrell and I attended an Oral History workshop which will assist us in creating a Newsreel item which will include some interviews that were conducted some time ago with local residents. We always take the opportunity to attend these workshops, especially if they don't actually cost us money, other than travel and lunch, and we always manage to learn something or understand something better. It is even better if they are conducted in the region, rather than in the city, and this one was held at Murray Bridge. We heard about other groups' projects and found that our frustrations are shared by others when it comes to cataloguing and housing a collection. Community involvement was recognised as extremely important in maintaining a collection, be it by volunteering of your time, any photographs/videos or the like, you may have of the surrounding district and towns, and allowing the copying of material to assist in the preservation of the story of the town and district.

Pictured above : The workshop was held in the Local Government Centre at Murray Bridge. Below: The participants and presenters, who came from all around the

Health talk: The Big “C”

Recently members of the Men's Shed were privileged to have a presentation on cancer by Tamara Thorpe from the Cancer Council of SA. Tamara covered a multitude of topics from the very basic as to what is cancer, what causes cancer, how to reduce the risks of cancer and living with cancer. Being a Men's Shed the presentation addressed many of the cancers specific to men, e.g. prostate, testicular, skin, head and neck, and bowel. The most important message to come out of the day were the risk factors and how to reduce that risk, namely always have some form of sun protection, quit smoking, increase activity, eat healthy nutritious food and keep an eye out for early detection as that greatly increases your chances of survival. A closing thought, smoking is legal however 1 in 5 people who smoke die of cancer, is it worth the risk!?

Sometimes the things (like salt and sugars) are called by other names, and it's important that you know what to look for.
